Project Analysis

- - Workspace layout: backend/ Express + Prisma API, frontend/ Next.js App Router web
- app, mobile/ Flutter mobile app.
- - Backend endpoint: backend/src/app.ts, mounted under both /web/api and /app/api
- plus public /health and /confirm-due/:token endpoints.
- - Frontend API layer: frontend/src/app/api/, mostly thin proxies to backend
- /web/api/* through frontend/src/lib/server/backend-proxy.ts.
- - Mobile API layer: callers are expected to use /app/api/*; mobile README requires
- DOKAN_API_BASE_URL=http://YOUR_SERVER_IP:4000.
- - Current API surface found in code: 175 backend route handlers across 19 mounted route
- groups, plus 65 frontend API handlers.

API Topology

- - Web clients normally hit http://localhost:4000/web/api/* directly or
- http://localhost:3000/api/* through Next.js proxy routes.
- - Mobile clients hit http://localhost:4000/app/api/*.
- - Authentication is resolved from the access-token cookie or an Authorization: Bearer
- <token> header.
- - The mobile /app/api/* scope has a subscription-access gate in backend/src/app.ts;
- /auth and /subscriptions are exempt from that global check.

Public Backend Endpoints

- - GET /health - Service health check.
- - GET /confirm-due/:token - Public due confirmation page handler.
- - POST /confirm-due/:token - Public due confirmation submit handler.

Frontend API Routes

These are the active Next.js routes under frontend/src/app/api/. Most forward to backend /web/api/*; custom handlers are called out explicitly.

- POST /api/auth/login - Thin proxy to backend /api/auth/login.
- POST /api/auth/logout - Thin proxy to backend /api/auth/logout.
- POST /api/auth/me/avatar - Uploads the image into the Next.js public folder, then patches the backend profile avatar.
- GET, PATCH /api/auth/me - Thin proxy to backend /api/auth/me.
- POST /api/auth/refresh - Thin proxy to backend /api/auth/refresh.
- PUT /api/bank-accounts/:id - Thin proxy to backend /api/bank-accounts/${id}.
- GET, POST /api/bank-accounts - Thin proxy to backend /api/bank-accounts.
- PUT, DELETE /api/brands/:id - Thin proxy to backend /api/brands/${id}.

- GET, POST, DELETE /api/brands - Thin proxy to backend /api/brands.
- GET, POST /api/bulk-upload - Custom Next.js import/export helper with local log storage and multiple upstream backend calls.
- POST /api/categories/:id/approve - Thin proxy to backend /api/categories/${id}/approve.
- PATCH, DELETE /api/categories/:id - Thin proxy to backend /api/categories/${id}.
- POST /api/categories/import - Custom Next.js route.
- GET, POST /api/categories - Thin proxy to backend /api/categories.
- GET /api/customers/:id/ledger - Thin proxy to backend /api/customers/${id}/ledger.
- POST /api/customers/:id/payments - Thin proxy to backend /api/customers/${id}/payments.
- GET /api/customers/:id - Thin proxy to backend /api/customers/${id}.

- GET, POST /api/units - Thin proxy to backend /api/units.

Notes

- - frontend/src/app/api/bulk-upload/route.ts is not a single-pass proxy; it parses
- spreadsheets, keeps local import/export logs, and calls multiple backend routes.
- - frontend/src/app/api/auth/me/avatar/route.ts stores the uploaded file in
- frontend/public/uploads/profiles/ before updating the backend user profile.
- - The older root file dokan-erp-app api list.txt exists, but this document is generated
- from the current codebase and should be treated as the fresher source of truth.
